LYME Regis escaped the worst of Storm Desmond as it swept across the UK over the weekend.

While some areas of the country were left severely flooded by the first major storm of winter, Lyme Regis remained largely undamaged and the historic Cobb wall, which had to undergo repairs following ferocious storms in February 2014, stood up against the huge waves and strong winds.

Harbour staff have once again warned people not to put their lives at risk, and the lives of others, by walking along the Cobb in dangerous weather conditions.

Deputy harbourmaster Mike Higgs said: "There are signs warning people of the dangers when they go on the high wall but we can't stop people. We just ask that they use their common sense."

"If a big wave was to come over the Cobb, it could cause serious injury or knock you straight off the wall."

Mr Higgs added that Lyme had avoided the worst of Storm Desmond and that no damage was reported at the harbour.

CRAIG Bernhardt is founder of the B! Health & Fitness health club in Lyme Regis, which opened last year.

Having formerly served in the Royal Air Force, he moved to the area from Buckinghamshire in 2007 with his wife Sarah and children Charlotte and Dominic, and describes it as 'the best move we ever made'.

● HOW did you first get into fitness and exercising?

As an ex-serviceman, being active has always been in my blood and I have always been an active gym and sports club member wherever I have lived.

● TELL us a little about your career background...

After leaving the Royal Air Force I spent the best part of 20 years in various managerial roles with companies such as American Express, Prudential, HSBC and AXA. When we moved in 2007 I decided I wanted to set up a business of my own so launched Millstock Lettings, which my wife still runs today. I then took a business in Devon through a management buy-out in 2011 and remained the CEO of that business until early 2014 when the time came to realise my true dream of running my own health club.

● YOU opted for a career change and qualified as a personal trainer - what inspired you to do this?

I wouldn't really call it a career change. At 47 I wasn't ready to retire but equally I didn't want another corporate role. Keeping fit and healthy has been extremely beneficial to me, so becoming a personal trainer seemed an obvious step forward in being able to create B! Health & Fitness and in turn create a facility to help others enjoy those same benefits.

● B! Health & Fitness has become a hit with residents since opening - what do you think makes it so popular?

I'm really pleased that you think it's a hit, that's a great compliment! I feel that many gyms and health clubs can be intimidating, faceless places but the benefits of regular exercise can be life changing. My intention with B! was to provide a welcoming facility with experienced trainers on hand and with one focus – helping members achieve their fitness goals! We have no time for image or vanity here, just treating everyone equally and participating in their journey to fitness success... whatever that looks like! If we are achieving that, then I am a happy man.

● WHAT services and classes do you offer?

We offer a full range of classes from yoga and pilates through to our own Shape & Tone, Power Burn, RIGorous and soon to launch Vaporize! The focus at B! is more total body workouts, hence why spinning isn't on our menu. Personal training is very popular and we like to incorporate a number of functional movements as well as more traditional exercises when training clients. We also offer body metric testing to help people understand more about their body composition than just weight alone and we offer nutritional guidance as diet is so important.

● YOU'RE also a qualified nutritional advisor - how important is it to consider what you're eating as well as an exercise regime?

Diet plays a huge part and goes hand in hand with a good exercise programme. I'm not a fan of diets as they are too short term and not necessarily healthy. Life is for living and unless you aim to compete on a bodybuilding stage then a healthy diet and solid exercise regime will allow you to look and feel great. Getting good advice though is key. We are all different and it's important to understand your own body type and nutritional requirements.

● SOME people can be nervous about joining a gym - what advice would you give them?

Don't let previous experience or preconceptions put you off. The benefits are too important. Take your time to find out how a club operates, when the quieter times to train are, the demographics of the membership and staff expertise/levels. If you still feel uncomfortable with the gym environment consider personal training at home, or talk to us about group classes in your local village hall, school or clubhouse, etc.

● WHAT do you enjoy about your job?

This will sound a bit clichéd but the strapline for B! Health & Fitness is "B! Fit, B! Healthy, B! Confident, B! You", that's exactly what I am seeing and what gives me a buzz - members achieving their fitness goals. Whether it be running 10K, a marathon, a triathlon, losing a specific amount of body fat or adding lean muscle, I don't care. Just seeing people look and feel so much better for it and regaining their confidence gives me a huge sense of satisfaction.

● WHEN you're not at the gym, how do you enjoy spending your time?

There isn't a huge amount of spare time when you open a new business but the few moments I do get, I genuinely like to just relax with the family and take in a good movie. Hopefully next season I will have more time to renew our season tickets for the Exeter Chiefs but currently I'm just happy watching my son play club rugby on a Sunday morning.

● WHAT do you like about the local area?

Everything!

Council offers support to proposal for new and improved town signage

LYME Regis Town Council has offered its initial support to a new signage scheme to improve information available to visitors and promote local businesses.

The council offered its support in principle to the suggestion of new signage, which could cost £35,000, at last week's Tourism & Economic Development Committee.

Tony Colston, chairman of Lyme Regis Business Group and owner of By The Bay restaurant, gave a report to council outlining the scheme, which was first proposed in 2013 but not taken forward.

The new signage scheme would include updating the existing town map and creating four colour-coded areas within the town, including the Cobb, the seafront, Broad Street, and the Town Mill and Coombe Street.

A main map showing all areas of the town would be on display at car parks and park and ride sites, as well as at the Jubilee Pavilion on Marine Parade, and area maps would be displayed in each colour-coded zone.

All maps would be designed to carry advertising from local businesses, which could create a yearly revenue between £8,400 and £26,700.

The project is expected to cost £35,000, but it is thought this could be made back within 36 months through advertising.

In his report linking to the proposal, deputy town clerk Mark Green said: "The group is optimistic that the delivery of the project can be fully funded through local sponsorship and advertising and will only approach the council about the possibility of agreeing to underwrite any unfunded costs if no other sources of funding can be secured."

"The council would have to consider any request for either a loan or the underwriting of costs based on the individual merits of that approach if and when the business group make such a request."

Mr Green added that improved signage was not one of the council's chosen objectives for the next four years, but this did not prevent the council from offering its support to the project on the basis that it is delivered by the business group or that any funding given is reimbursed.

The proposal also included suggestions to help tidy up existing signage around the town, including restricting the use of signage to one A-board or similar per business on Marine Parade, the Cart Road, Silver Street, Broad Street, Coombe Street and Church Street. Requests for additional boards could be made to the council.

It was also suggested that the "unsightly conglomeration" of boards outside the former Three Cups Hotel be removed and the area kept clear in future.

Mr Colston's proposal also suggested consolidating parking instructions in car parks and removing "car park full" signs where used around the town, as information on these were not kept current and was "confusing and likely to drive visitors away".

The committee supported the proposal in principle and Mr Colston is now expected to return to the Tourism & Economic Development Committee with more information, including costs and how the business group proposes to underwrite those costs.

He also said that he was intending to scale the proposal down to bite-size chunks and possibly taking it on in three phases.

School governor pays tribute to headmistress as she moves on

A SCHOOL governor has paid tribute to headmistress of St Michael's Primary School in Lyme Regis, Annabelle Grose, who will be moving on to her next post after Christmas.

Miss Grose joined St Michael's as headteacher six years ago, having previously worked in Plymouth and at Charmouth Primary School. She will be moving on to a larger school in Culmpton after the Christmas holiday.

Paying tribute to Miss Grose, school governor Audrey Vivian said: "I was chairman of the governing body which had the good fortune nearly six years ago to be able to appoint Annabelle to the headship of our church school."

"During her time at St Michael's education has changed, as governments come and go, and educational priorities demand a great deal of both teachers and children and especially for head teachers, who are responsible for the whole, together with the governing body who voluntarily take a full part in school life."

"Annabelle has gathered about her a very strong team of teachers and governors who reflect and support her leadership. She has taken a full part in the life of the town with guest appearances in the band and full support with the children of B Sharp."

"The children have delivered harvest baskets and hosted teas for the older generation and at Christmas have sung at clubs and homes in the town. Performances at the school have brought pleasure for many and the joint bazaars have been well supported."

"Fundraising for many charities takes part on a regular basis. All of this with raising the children's aspirations and enjoyment of learning."

"Many hours have been spent with less fortunate families, with practical help being sought wherever possible.

"Above all, the special Christian nature of our school has been an important priority, with all children learning to value each other and to come to know that many are not as fortunate as they are."

"They have been taught under Annabelle's guidance to value the environment, both here and all over the world and to behave in a thoughtful and caring way. They have come to appreciate the opportunities to learn they are offered."

"They have regularly taken part in services at St Michael's Church, either with congregation and parents or in their classes, learning about the church and being taught it is there for them. In school, too, there is a feeling of reverence and celebration for achievement and effort in assemblies and classrooms."

"Annabelle has laughed with the happy times and been there for the sad and lonely. We will miss her very much but know she leaves the school in good heart."

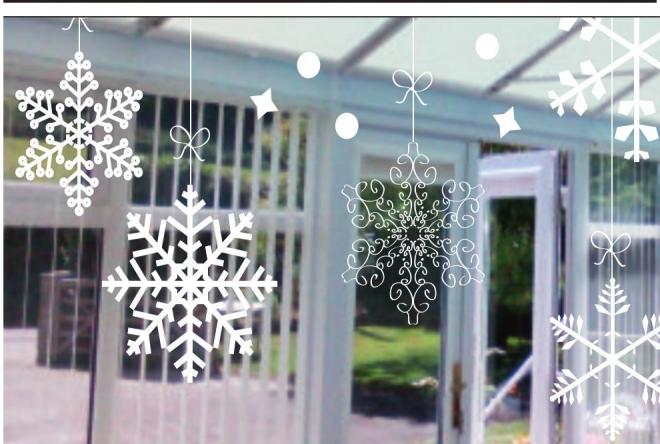

"All heads bring themselves to their school and Annabelle Grose is no exception. We look forward to building on the foundation which she has laid and the opportunities that are ahead for us all and wish Annabelle well in her new task. We have enjoyed her friendship and know she will continue to be in our prayers and thoughts."

Get set for a Christmas Day dip

SWIMMERS taking a traditional Christmas Day dip at Charmouth this year will be treated to a hot toddy as they emerge from the chilly waters.

Sponsors for the second year running are the landlords of Charmouth's Royal Oak pub, Karen Phillips and her partner Ian Hendry.

As usual it's expected that many of the swimmers will be dressed in a colourful variety of costumes, from nuns and crusaders to vicars and fairies, for the Christmas Day event.

Karen said: "We are delighted to be involved. We have some pretty outrageously dressed customers in the pub on Christmas Day, but the event gives everyone a great buzz."

"We will provide a hot toddy for all those who brave the waves and I think it will be very welcome."

Members of the volunteer lifeboat crew from Lyme Regis will be on hand to keep an eye on proceedings, and the swim is once again supporting the RNLI.

The swim will be started at 11am promptly by Lyme Regis town crier, Alan Vian.

Still time to buy tickets for Christmas party

TICKETS are still available for the Lyme Regis Christmas Party, in aid of Cancer Research UK.

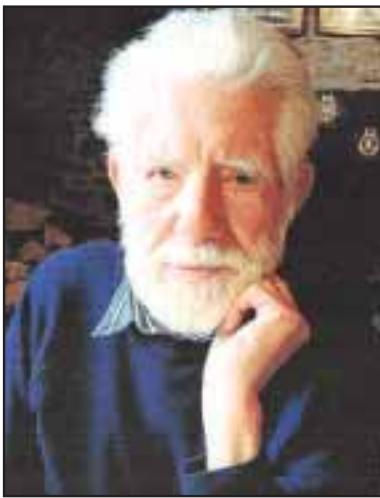

The party will be held at the Woodmead Halls on Saturday, December 19th and is open to all local businesses, organisations and individuals.

The evening will include a free glass of Christmas punch on arrival, a sumptuous Christmas buffet, a Christmas cabaret, Wessex Star Disco, raffle and spot prizes.

The event is being organised by the Lyme Regis branch of Cancer Research UK, which recently topped the total of £60,000 raised for the charity since the branch formed in 2007.

Tickets cost £17.50 and are available from the View From Lyme Regis offices or by calling Philip Evans on 01297 446155.

OBITUARY

LYNETTE Ravenscroft's lovely dad Reg, who often visited Lyme Regis, sadly passed away peacefully on December 1st. One of his last wishes was to come back to this area so the family are holding a memorial service at the Church of St Peter & St Paul in Uplyme on Friday, December 11th at 11.30am. Reg was a wonderful character, full of fun and so generous in body and spirit. God bess him.

Requiem

We come and go,
Like footprints in the snow.
And all that lasts,
Is memories of the past.
Each look, each word,
Each time and place a gem.
We lock them in our hearts and we will treasure them.

Cheesemonger invited to Whitehall for Small Business Saturday campaign

THE Town Mill Cheesemonger in Lyme Regis was one of 100 small businesses from across the UK to be invited to Whitehall to meet Chancellor of the Exchequer, George Osborne, last Friday.

Justin Tunstall (pictured), owner of the award-winning Town Mill Cheesemonger, said he was "very proud" his business was one of just 100 to receive the invitation to mark the national campaign, Small Business Saturday, sponsored by American Express.

Small Business Saturday, which took place on Saturday, is a grassroots, not-for-profit campaign which places small, independent businesses in the national spotlight. Its aim is to prompt people not only to spend money with small independent businesses in the run-up to Christmas but also to create a mind-set to support them all year round.

Mr Tunstall said: "When I opened the shop six and a half years ago, I needed to make a living for myself. Furthermore, I wanted to create something new, that would be uncompromising in quality and to provide some much-needed local employment in my hometown, Lyme Regis."

The Chancellor, George Osborne, commented: "Small Business Saturday is a great opportunity to champion some of the brilliant entrepreneurs and firms we have in this country and make sure everyone is aware of the powerful role they play."

Campaign director Michelle Ovens added: "Small Business Saturday has become an exceptional example of collabora-ration and co-operation with small businesses teaming up in communities around the UK.

"We aim to showcase the level of diversity, innovation and talent that is active within our small business sector and persuading people to get out and support their friends, neighbours and family members and reinforce local communities and economies."

American Express was the founder of the campaign in the US and is the principal supporter of Small Business Saturday UK, as part of its on-going commitment to encourage consumers to shop small. The campaign also benefits from the backing of leading business organisations, including the Federation of Small Businesses, which has a programme of supportive events planned across the country, as well as other corporate supporters including Vistaprint, TalkTalk Business, Indeed, Sage, PRS for Music and PPL.

Small businesses around the UK planned special events, promotions and other activities to attract clients and customers to them not only on December 5th but also beyond. Lyme Regis was wholeheartedly committed to the initiative, with free parking offered in all council-owned car parks in the town for the day and special offers in some shops.

More information on Small Business Saturday can be found on the Small Business Saturday Facebook page www.facebook.com/smallbusinesssaturdayuk, Twitter page @SmallBizSatUK, and website www.smallbusinesssaturdayuk.com

Council expected to defer decision on major grants

COUNCIL officers are recommending that the allocation of major grants to Lyme Regis organisations is deferred until early next year to allow more groups to apply for funding.

Town councillors were tonight (Wednesday) expected to allocate grants to organisations which already receive funding to the total of £85,000 from the council each year, following reports on their progress. However, in his report to members town clerk John Wright points out a "flaw" in this process; the council had only received updates from organisations which already receive major grants and hasn't sought applications from others which may wish to apply for a major grant.

The town council currently hands out £32,000 to Lyme Arts Community Trust, which runs the Marine Theatre; £25,000 to Woodmead Halls; £13,500 to LymeForward and £10,000 to The Hub each year. It also granted £5,000 to B Sharp last year.

The town clerk has now recommended deferring the decision-making on whether to continue with these grants until the end of February 2016, allowing the council time to seek further applications from other local organisations.

These major grants are separate from the council's annual minor grants process, in which organisations can apply for up to £3,000.

For both minor and major grants next year, the council has a total budget of £124,000 and members are also expected tonight to decide how to split this between minor and major grants.

They are also expected to set the council's overall budget for the coming financial year, which includes the precept.

Marine's Clemmie wins national award for her directing work

NEW artistic director at the Marine Theatre in Lyme Regis, Clemmie Reynolds, has won a national award for her directing work.

Between 2013-15, Clemmie commissioned, produced and directed "Muscovado", a play about life on a sugar plantation in 19th century Barbados, inspired by her family's history.

After winning Arts Council funding, she commissioned Nigerian playwright Matilda Ibini to write the play and developed the script collaboratively with Matilda and historians at the Victoria & Albert Museum in London, and theatre practitioners at the Young Vic Theatre.

Clemmie (pictured) produced and directed the play in London with her company BurntOut Theatre, and then toured it all over the UK, including at Bridport Arts Centre, where it received five-star reviews.

The Alfred Fagon Audience Award is a prestigious national award that recognises and celebrates talented Black British playwrights of Caribbean and African descent writing in Britain today. Each year, the top three plays voted for by the public on an online poll win the award.

"Muscovado" was named the winner at an awards ceremony at the National Theatre in London last Friday, presented by artistic director Rufus Norris, alongside the Royal Court's Liberian Girl and Mustapha Matura's Play Mas.

Clemmie's brother James wrote the music for the show and will be performing some of his original choral work at the Marine in April next year.

Open-air production of 'The Tempest'

THE Marine Theatre's artistic director, Clemmie Reynolds, will be directing an open-air production of Shakespeare's "The Tempest" on Theatre Square, Lyme Regis, next summer, as part of the 20th anniversary celebrations of Lyme's twinning with St George's in Bermuda.

Former Mayor of Lyme Regis, Admiral Sir George Somers, colonised Bermuda after being shipwrecked on the islands. It is thought the wreckage was the inspiration for "The Tempest".

Both local amateur and professional actors are being welcomed to take part in the production. Those interested should contact Clemmie at the theatre on 01297 442394.

New equipment installed at Marine in memory of theatre supporters

■ ON SCREEN: Nigel Press, Fred Humphries of Lyme Regis Dramatic Society and Joanna Hopkins of Lyme Regis Operatic Society with the new equipment backstage

A BEQUEST from the estate of late Lyme Regis residents Irene Booth and Jean Heppenstall has been used to improve facilities at the Marine Theatre, where they both volunteered and performed.

Irene and Jean were inseparable friends who had shared a house in Lyme Regis since the early 1970s. They gave freely of their time to help others, especially in the thespian world, and many are in their gratitude for the fun they imparted and the experience and confidence they engendered.

Irene was the daughter of a butler's family. She was evacuated from Clapham at the beginning of the war to find herself a pupil throughout the conflict at Eton College - unusual for a girl.

She became a technical draughtswoman at Lagonda Motors, later Aston-Martin in Feltham, again unusual for a girl in those days. Irene played violin in the local orchestra, but above all was a cricketer, opening bat for Middlesex ladies and for south of England ladies.

Jean was the daughter of a postman and special constable from Scarborough, and was a well-trained singer in her school days, becoming a Methodist lay-preacher at age 21, also unusual for a girl. She had a wonderful contralto voice in the mould of Ferrier and Baker.

Tiring of administrative jobs in her hometown, she sought a change in London and joined a company on tour with Ivor Novello's "The Dancing Years" as understudy for the principal, Olive Gilbert, a well-known singer of the day.

However, the touring life did not suit her and after one season she returned to more normal employment as a store detective, traffic warden and later with the Girl Guides Association.

Having met through cricket, Irene and Jean made the break from London to Lyme, Jean to run a chauffeuse service and Irene continuing her specialised drafting work freelance from home. Their great pleasures were their garden, with Irene's inherited green-fingers and their walking holidays in the Lake District, as witnessed by their well-thumbed collection of Wainwright's Guides.

However, it was their enthusiasm and dedication to the Lyme Regis Community Players and the vocal and musical coaching provided by Jean, as well as the refreshments dispensed by Irene, for which they are most fondly remembered, especially at the Marine Theatre.

A bequest from their estate was donated to the Marine from Irene's nephew, Nigel Press, and was used to purchase CCTV equipment for the backstage area, meaning productions on the stage can now be viewed by those backstage.

A special tea was held at the theatre to receive the donation, attended by representatives of Lyme's amateur dramatic societies, many of whom worked alongside Jean and Irene.

Mr Press said: "They would be particularly pleased, indeed 'tickled pink' to think that a bequest from their estate is being used as a small gesture to help ensure that such opportunities and facilities continue to be available locally."

Charmouth couple to mark 65 years of happy marriage

A CHARMOUTH couple are celebrating their 65th wedding anniversary this month, and say they still look at each other the same way they did when they first met.

Alan and Cynthia Buckingham will celebrate 65 years of married life after a chance meeting in 1948.

The couple met at Padstow Youth Club in Cornwall and Alan then visited Cynthia in her hometown of Columb St Major, where she worked in the Post Office.

Two years later, on December 16th 1950, both aged 23, they were married in St Columb.

The couple went on to live in Launceston for 45 years, where they first began their career in the antiques trade and, quite unusually, where they both served as mayor before moving to Charmouth about 20 years ago.

Cynthia was previously president of the Charmouth branch of the Royal British Legion Women's Sec-

The couple hope to get their friends together for lunch to celebrate their anniversary.

Public First petition gains 6,000 signatures in favour of system change at West Dorset

THE Public First petition, which hopes to see West Dorset District Council's Cabinet system changed to a "more democratic" committee system, has gained more than 6,000 signatures.

A total of 4,069 validated signatures are required to call a referendum on a change of governing system at the district council.

John Grantham, petition organiser, said: "The hunger among the public to move away from the elitist Cabinet system, and back to a broader-based committee system, is strong.

"If we do achieve a referendum the future is very bright. Our supporters, and we believe the public of West Dorset generally, don't seem now to relish narrow local party politics, but want more openness and democracy. People want their councillors to be able to look at each issue with an open mind, assimilate different points of view, and come to their own reasoned conclusion.

"They don't seem to want local government led by just seven people who are all from the same party, which itself didn't achieve a majority of the votes cast at the last local election. That's not the sort of democracy most people want to be operating from Lyme Regis up to Sherborne.

"So reversion to the committee system (after a validation of the petition and a successful referendum) will:

"1) Will result in dissolution of the Cabinet system, and ensure every district councillor elected will have a policy-making role in the council, enabling varied

■ HOPING FOR CHANGE: Some of the 6,000 supporters of the Public First petition to change the governing system at West Dorset District Council and different ideas to be introduced into the mix at an early stage. Wistfully, one asks, would the Charles Street 'omnishambles' have been avoided if the very different views of many councillors not in the Cabinet had been given real prominence, and been fully debated, at an early stage?

"2) Additionally a broader based committee structure, by breaking down barriers and promoting more team-work among councillors of differing viewpoints in various committees, might also encourage more members of the public to decide to stand for election.

"3) And with fresh councillors and fresh ideas in a positive council chamber setting, the public itself could begin to become more interested and involved?

"WDDC will announce the result of the petition before Christmas. If it is validated, we and they agree that the ideal date for any referendum would be May 5th 2016, to coincide with the police commissioner's election day.

"It's a long-overdue, but exciting prospect for greater democracy in West Dorset, and it has nothing to do with party politics, just the system."

B Sharp gets in the Christmas mood

MEMBERS and supporters of B Sharp, Lyme Regis' youth music charity, got into the festive spirit at its annual Christmas party last Saturday.

The party tied in with the first evening of "Yuletide Lyme" events, following the switching-on of the town's Christmas lights, and saw a full house at the Marine Theatre.

An audience of all ages flocked to the festive looking theatre and enjoyed an evening of music and dancing. Families, young people, supporters and the local community came along to watch more than 50 young musicians take to the stage and perform music composed together at the weekly jam sessions and Boombox programmes based at The Hub youth club.

The evening raised £900 and still counting from tickets, donations, refreshments and raffle. Every penny will go back into B Sharp coffers to help pay for events, equipment and bursaries for young musicians who wouldn't otherwise be able to take part.

The annual event is a celebration of the wider programme across the year and an opportunity for B Sharp to showcase some of its work. The party also featured live music from popular disco/funk covers outfit Mr Jean and special guests drawn from the team of young trainee leaders and musicians.

"This was our biggest and busiest party yet," said Pete Wild, Hub Jams music leader and compere for the night.

"It's always great to see all of the different young musicians and leaders take to the stage and share their original music, which is always so impressive. This is such a cool and fun way of progressing young musicians music confidence and experiences."

"There was such a great crowd who were loving every minute of the evening and then packing the dance floor – it's always warming to see such mixed ages and people having such a great time together."

B Sharp's programme is open to all young musicians from beginners to advanced. The weekly programme includes Hub Jams on Tuesday evenings from 6.15pm to 8.30pm for ages 11 (Year 7) to 19, and Boombox, a new after-school project on Thursdays from 4pm to 5.15pm for younger musicians aged 9-11 (Years 4 to 7). These regular programmes are based at The Hub where mixed aged, interest and ability groups compose original material for various performances and events throughout the year. An experienced team of music leaders, trainees and support workers, offering pathways to further music, education and employment opportunities, lead the sessions.

B Sharp director Fran Williams said: "Whether young people want to become better musicians or embark on a pathway that can lead to a career, there is a definite progression to be made here. The Hub sessions are at the core of our wider music and leadership programme."

Former Lyme man makes presentation to his jazz hero

AS a music loving 16-year-old from Lyme Regis, Ian McKenzie played a tea chest bass at the Civic Hall, Exeter, on the same bill as the Chris Barber band in 1957.

Then a teenager with flair on a G string, he was in great awe of the legendary jazzman. And now, as Exmouth resident Doctor Ian McKenzie, he was able to make a prestigious trophy presentation to his hero Chris Barber, the pioneer of jazz, gospel and blues in the UK, at a ceremony in the Concorde Club, Eastney, Southampton, last Wednesday.

Ian did the honours on behalf of the British Blues Awards, having personally nominated the famous musician in recognition of his role in promoting blues music in Britain.

"I feel greatly honoured," said Ian.

"Little did I think all those years ago when I was in the Lyme Bay Skiffle Group in that concert in Exeter that I would be so privileged."

"It was a great thrill. I think Barber, who is still active in the music scene, is fabulous. He remains a great force in the world of jazz and blues, and it is only fitting that he should receive an award to record his achievements in perpetuity."

Ian, who went to Lyme Regis Grammar School (now the Woodroffe School), had a brilliant career in the Metropolitan Police Force, reaching the rank of Superintendent. He later became principal lecturer in criminology at Portsmouth University.

An accomplished guitarist and vocalist, he is an acclaimed authority on jazz and blues and is a DJ on two international radio stations. A founder member of the Independent Blues Broadcasters' Association, he is also editor of Blues in the South.

Barber, a trombonist and bass player, triggered the skiffle craze in Britain in the 1950s, with Lonnie Donegan featuring on banjo, and had a Transatlantic hit, "Rock Island Line", with Beryl Bryden on washboard.

Hundreds of mainly amateur skiffle groups were formed all over the country. The Beatles and Mick Jagger and many other top performers developed from their ranks.

In the 1960s, Barber was principal organiser of the first UK tour of blues artists, featuring the great exponents, including the legendary Big Bill Broonzie and Sonny Terry and Brownie McGhee.

Santa tours the streets of Lyme

■ CHRISTMAS music boomed around the town this week at Santa Claus carried out his annual tour of the streets of Lyme Regis. The charity Santa sleigh, now in its fourteenth year, was once again organised by Neville Causley and family from the Hunters Lodge Inn. It toured the streets on Sunday and Monday evenings, with children excited to meet Father Christmas and his helpers, and receive treats in return for donations. The sleigh has raised thousands for local charities over the years, and this year's profit of £820 will be donated to local youth music charity, B Sharp.

School encourages residents to re-cycle their textiles

ST Michael's Primary School is encouraging people to help raise vital funds for the pupils by having a Christmas clear-out in their homes.

The Lyme Regis school has signed up to the "Phil the Bag" clothes recycling scheme, which will turn old and unwanted clothing into much-needed funds to support pupils' learning.

The initiative aims to promote awareness of textile recycling in schools and the community.

Organised by the school's Parents and Friends Association (PFA), the scheme is an effective way of donating, educating and generating funds for St Michael's.

Jo Hayden, chairman of the PFA, said: "We are always looking for new ways and opportunities to raise important funds for the school."

"This fundraising programme recycles old and unwanted clothing and turns it into cash for the school."

"We ran this event last year and it was very successful, raising over £100."

"This is the perfect time for people to clear out their unwanted textiles in time for Christmas and help local schoolchildren in the process."

"We're currently fundraising for laptops for the pupils so we hope the community will really get behind this appeal."

With the growing emphasis on teaching children how to reduce, re-use and recycle, "Phil the Bag" will also help to demonstrate to pupils the significance of textile recycling, reducing landfill, and re-using on both a local and global scale.

People are encouraged to fill bags, cardboard boxes or even pillow cases with unwanted items of clothing and shoes and to take them to the school in King's Way on Friday morning by 9am.

The bags will be collected and weighed and Phil the Bag will give the school £350 for every tonne of clothing collected, so every kilo counts.

Items that can be donated include adult's and children's clothing, shoes, bags, belts, hats, towels and household linen. Items that will not be accepted include rugs, canvas tents, sleeping bags, duvets, pillows, fabric off-cuts and wet items.

These textiles are then sold on and distributed to people who can use and enjoy them in developing countries.

■ YOUNGER pupils from St Michael's Primary School held their annual nativity play this week. The traditional nativity was performed in front of fellow students in the school hall, and for family and friends at the school's annual carol service at St Michael's Parish Church on Tuesday evening.

THE children at St Michael's Pre-School in Lyme Regis have been learning about how firemen and women help to keep us all safe. They were visited by an education officer who specialises in Early Years learning. Puppets and role play really engaged the children in their learning and they all took turns in dressing up as firemen and firewomen. One child said: "It was awesome. I want to be a firefighter!" The children learnt a great deal about keeping safe and how important the fire service is for our communities.

Writer publishes poetry collection based in Lyme

A FORMER Lyme Regis resident has just had her second collection of poetry published in the form of a poetry pamphlet.

Louisa Adjoa Parker was one of four winners of the Cinnamon Press Poetry Pamphlet Competition 2015 to have their pamphlets printed, with hers named Blinking in the Light.

Ian Gregson, the competition adjudicator, described the pamphlet as "a collection of confessional poems which, in starkly telling a story about a fraught pregnancy and the suicide of a man very close to the speaker's family, evokes with powerful images and unadorned language a raw sense of contemporary life."

The poems are about a difficult year in Louisa's life – 1994 – and are set in Lyme Regis, where she lived at the time.

Louisa (pictured right) said: "Writing about what happened has helped me to come to terms with the traumatic events, and to let them go. I have lots of memories of life in Lyme Regis; some good and some bad. For me it is a place filled with darkness and light, a place of beauty and sadness. It will, however, always have a place in my heart."

Louisa, who now lives in Dorchester, is of Ghanaian and White English heritage. She originally began writing poetry to talk about her experiences of racism as a child and young woman.

"I was born in the 1970s. Britain was an openly racist country back then," she said.

"I realised I had a lot to say on the matter, and had not previously had an avenue to express my experiences."

"I have lived in the West Country for 30 years, and the majority of my friends have been white, so racism is not something they can relate to on a personal level."

"I also write about other themes which are important to me – parenthood and life as a single parent, place, home, belonging, love and loss."

This is the second time Louisa has been published by Cinnamon Press; her first collection, Salt-sweat and Tears, now out of print, was published in 2007. The book was critically acclaimed by the likes of poet Selima Hill, who commented: "Louisa Adjoa Parker writes like a fire blazes... brutal and cool; sparks fly... She writes like a dream, but a dream that will not let you go; that's ruthless and painful and crystal clear."

Louisa also writes fiction, and her poetry and prose have been published in various anthologies, journals and online, including Wasafiri, Envoi and Out of Bounds: British Black and Asian Poets. She has recently had a short story called Breaking Glass, also set in Lyme Regis, published in an anthology called Closure: Contemporary Black British Short Stories, the first collection of its kind for 15 years.

She is currently working on two novels, one of which was long-listed by the Mslexia Novel Competition. Louisa has also been shortlisted by the Bridport Prize, and highly commended by the Forward Prize.

As well as creative writing, Louisa has written various exhibitions and books exploring multicultural Dorset, including Dorset's Hidden Histories and All Different, All Dorset. She has performed her work widely across the South West, and delivered many creative writing workshops in schools, colleges, Universities and prisons for 15 years.

Louisa will be holding several launch events where she will be performing her work. The Lyme Regis launch will take place at Lyme Regis Library on February 12th 2016 at 7pm. For further information contact the library.

To buy the pamphlet visit the website www.cinnamonpress.com or order from any Waterstones store, or if you would like to book Louisa for a poetry reading or talk on Dorset's multicultural history, email louisaparker3@hotmail.com

Festive fayre on offer at Uplyme church

UPLYME church hosted its annual Christmas fayre last weekend.

Turkey and stuffing rolls were on sale as well as soup and a selection of sandwiches. The usual festive activities were well supported, and a tombola, raffle and musical guests including Stella Quaresma were all on hand to support the church's only fundraising event of the year.

Inheritance Claims on the Rise?

There appears to have been in recent years a steady increase in claims under the Inheritance (Provision for Family and Dependents) Act 1975. This might in part be attributed to the fragmentation of families but also to the dramatic increase in property prices over the last few years.

The matter was recently brought to public attention in the case of Ilot v Mitson. In this case the deceased left the majority of her net estate to three charities having made no provision whatsoever for her adult daughter from whom she had been estranged for some 30 years. The deceased had been clear in her wishes to disinherit her daughter and had left a letter to her Executors to re-enforce her intention.

Nevertheless the daughter succeeded on appeal and was awarded £164,000 from the deceased's estate.

Whilst it is of course clear that a parent is under no obligation to leave anything to children under the terms of their Will, it is open for children to bring a claim under the provisions of the 1975 Act on grounds that the deceased failed to make reasonable provision for them.

The right extends not just to children but also to surviving wife/husband, co-habitees, stepchildren or anyone having been maintained by the deceased.

In determining such a claim, the Court will have regard to factors such as the respective resources of the claimant as well as the Will beneficiaries, the size and nature of the estate of the deceased and any other matter including conduct which the Court may regard as relevant.

Whilst therefore it is always advisable to have a Will to distribute your estate as you so wish there is the possibility that your wishes may ultimately be overridden as happened in the Ilot case.

At Nantes we can help you to minimise the prospects of your Will being successfully challenged.

Examples of claims that can arise in this area include: -

- Claims where inadequate provision has been made for a party in a Will.
- Challenges to the validity of a Will, whether due to a lack of mental capacity, undue influence or improper execution of Wills.
- Disputes relating to the interpretation of a Will.
- Claims involving agreements made with the deceased before death, particularly with regards to significant property and gifts.
- Disputes over the identification of beneficiaries.
- Claims for and against Executors, Personal Representatives and Trustees.
- Disputes relating to Trusts and Charities.
- Professional negligence claims relating to the drafting of Wills and Trusts.
- Disputes about a person appointed to act on behalf of someone who has lost their mental capacity.

Christmas market to support Hospiscare

ROUSDON and Compyne Christmas Market will raise money for Hospiscare after one of its organisers was so impressed with the service her husband is receiving.

Christine Newton and her husband Grayson were organising his end of life, palliative care. But because Macmillan Nurses – to whom they were expecting to be referred – do not offer an at-home service locally, Christine and her husband were directed to the Seaton Friends Hospiscare @ Home Team.

Christine said: "We were shocked to discover that this service is not part of the NHS, though it works alongside it, but is a charity relying on fundraising activities and donations."

Grayson, Christine's husband added: "It costs over £6million to run Hospiscare each year but now I (and my family) have access to expert nursing care, advice and support 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. And it's free at the point of delivery."

The Seaton Friends team is one of Hospiscare's 11 outreach services and receives financial support from Seaton & District Hospital League of Friends.

Christine said she has been spreading the news about the team to everyone she meets.

"When one of my neighbours said that we should do something to raise funds, within minutes the idea of a Christmas Market was launched and within a day the hall had been booked and people were pledging donations for a raffle, promising to make cakes and other Christmassy items. I couldn't believe how quickly people came together for such a good cause."

The market will take place in Peek Hall, Rousdon, on Saturday, December 12th from 2pm to 4pm. Contact Amanda Holden (01297 442275) or Christine Newton (01297 442028) if you can donate quality items for a stall, bake a cake or donate something for a tombola. Raffle prizes so far include a 22 inch HD TV, a magnum of champagne and an MOT/service from Rousdon.

Economic plan to be presented at LymeForward meeting

LOCAL Area Partnership LymeForward will be holding its next quarterly meeting tomorrow (Thursday) at 2pm in the Woodmead Halls.

The agenda will include presenting the draft of the Coastal Community Team's economic plan for the area, which will go under public review. Bill McGowan will also be attending to introduce himself as the new sub-postmaster in Lyme Regis.

LymeForward is the local area strategic partnership for Lyme Regis, Charmouth, Uplyme and the surrounding area. LymeForward and other LAPs are part of the West Dorset Partnership.

The partnership encourages local people, groups and organisations to work together for the good of the whole community. Through consultation and mutual support it aims to improve the community's economic and environmental sustainability.

Uplyme Summer Show to be revamped as Strawberry Fayre

THE annual Uplyme Summer Show will be revamped as a Strawberry Fayre next year, after several new volunteers came forward.

It was feared the show, organised by Uplyme & Lyme Regis Horticultural Society for more than 80 years, would have to be scrapped after three of the 12 committee members, including the show secretary, decided to retire. But at the society's recent annual general meeting, several new members joined the committee.

It was agreed that the show would go forward as a Strawberry Fayre on Saturday, July 16th 2016. A small sub-committee will be set up to co-ordinate the event, and a schedule of the competition classes will be published in January.

The fayre will be run a little differently to normal, as the committee has not had time to canvass advertisers for the schedule. Instead, they will publish a programme in advance of the show which will also serve as an entrance ticket, and it is hoped that advertisers can be offered a good opportunity this way.

The usual range of stalls and entertainment will be on the field to make sure the 2016 Strawberry Fayre is as successful as this year's summer show.

NEWS FROM LYME REGIS MEDICAL CENTRE

A regular column by Hazel Read, Patient Participation Group

THE Patient Participation Group (PPG) recently held their last meeting of the year. It was a well attended meeting and many issues were discussed.

We have a new full time GP, Dr William Wilson, joining the practice in December, starting his induction course during the Christmas period. It is hoped a further GP will be in place in the New Year to replace Dr Batten.

Unfortunately, recruitment of permanent GPs has become a nationwide problem, with GPs now responsible for commissioning and extra pressure on them with additional work outside patient appointments, resulting in many doctors preferring to work as locums.

It was explained that we need to make the best use of all the services available; the nurse practitioner who has 20 minute appointment slots, or the nurses who can make referrals to a GP if needed, or possibly try pharmacy for advice.

As a result of the inspection by the Clinical Quality Care Group, the role of the nurse-led Minor Injuries Unit (MIU) is being clarified. The MIU is specifically for the criteria of minor injury, in an emergency situation the patients will be directed to the nearest A&E for treatment. Out of GP opening hours, patients suffering from minor ailments or conditions requiring to be seen in a GP practice, would be advised to use the NHS 111 service.

Currently, the MIU is being supported by an advanced nurse practitioner in emergency care whilst discussions are underway. A full copy of the report will be put on the noticeboard in due course.

It is now possible to make a double appointment with a GP if required, for those patients who have chronic problems. Timed telephone slots are available for telephone consultations.

Self-referrals for musculoskeletal problems for physiotherapy appointments are going well. Forms are available from reception.

A representative from the Clinical Care Commissioning Group, Elise Ripley, was a guest speaker. She briefly went through the minutes of the meeting held on September 21st, which was chaired by Dr Forbes Watson regarding "Future Healthcare in Dorset". Discussion was around six to seven GP Community Hubs to be set up around Dorset, in which Lyme would be served by a hub at Bridport Hospital. There will be a visiting and an out of hours service but initially Bridport is likely to provide seven day week urgent care, which will prevent the need for travelling further to Dorchester Hospital.

An emergency care centre may be based in Poole or Bournemouth and staffed by specialists 24/7. The full paper is available online at www.lymeforward.co.uk

Patient feedback forms, which are available from reception, are recorded. Each month an action is completed on this feedback, resulting in a handrail being fitted outside leading to the physiotherapy department. Feedback can be made online, via text, paper or telephone.

The medical centre has pledged to join the Health Pledge Scheme and plans are in progress relating to this. Please watch this space for more details in our next issue.

A very happy, healthy Christmas and New Year!

Photographic club members share their work with others

LYME Bay Photographic Club was disappointed that Guy Richardson had to cancel his visit, but were keen to participate in a members' evening in which they shared their work with each other.

The evening commenced with chairman Chris Sellers running through the successful portfolio of images which had won the Chard/Lyme Bay competition the previous evening. He went on to show some of his own images on his website, including his favourites of the Isle of Mull.

Rob Hunt followed with a series of pictures illustrating his work as a successful landscape gardener, a career which has spanned for more than 20 years.

New member Dougie Young showed some of his remarkable pictures of when he was a member of the parachute regiment and explained how he used his equipment when he was free falling from an aircraft. He was followed by Sylvia Adams who showed how she created thrilling pictures of horse racing and other horse events. Then she described what Photoshop and Digital FX effects she used to enhance her images.

Time ran out before all members were able to take part, including Roger MacDonald who had brought along a portable film camera from the 1880s which had been in his family since new. It's hoped that Roger will be able to bring his camera along during the next meeting as many members were disappointed to miss the opportunity to see such a valuable piece of equipment.

The next meeting will be held on Friday, December 11th when Ernie King will judge the "Smoke" competition and show his prints and audio-visual presentations.

For further details, call chairman Chris Sellers on 01297 442475 or visit the club's website www.lymabayphotographclub.org

A 'fitting end' to Lyme Art Society's successful season

LYME Regis Art Society celebrated the end of yet another successful year by holding its annual general meeting at the Woodmead Halls last Tuesday.

This well-attended meeting reflected increased local interest in the society's activities. Chairman Sue Wells emphasised the growing number of members and the quality of this year's annual art exhibition, which reflected the amount of people who actively support the society's meetings and events.

Treasurer John Glover remarked on the success of the club's most recent purchase, a camera, which gave visitors an improved view of the demonstrating artist at work.

Pat Dench, the programme organiser, reflected on the quality of visiting artists. Members particularly remembered the successful Artsfest demonstration in memory of Edna Dorrington, a much-beloved local artist and former chairman of the society.

After a festive tea break, the members enjoyed a talk by the enigmatic Roger Clemens, entitled "Luggers, Low Tide and Watching Fred Poggio".

A long-time favourite of the society, Roger launched into an exciting voyage through his life as an artist, growing up in the Cornish fishing village of Looe. Largely self-taught, Roger described how his past experiences influenced his present work.

"Where I belong and what that has given me, provides a wealth of information for my painting," he said.

He illustrated his talk with many examples of local scenes of Looe, and the varying techniques he uses to achieve a specific atmosphere. Roger explained how a painting should provide an interesting conversation between the artist and the viewer.

His infectious passion for art provided a fitting note on which to end a successful 2015.

View from the churches

IN some countries it seems common (as here occasionally) to name a baby after an event, circumstance or person important when the child was born.

One baby was born with an incurable illness. The doctor said "only God knows if he will live". The parents called their baby Godknows! Another, last of 13, was named Enough. His mother said she'd had enough!

I bought my wife a puppy some while ago, but she was the wrong breed and too lively for my wife. She is called Folly, because she is my folly. She is wonderful though, as is my wife!

The name Jesus is the Greek form of Joshua, meaning "The Lord saves". Before Jesus was born Joseph was told "you will call Him Jesus because He will save His people from their sins".

To the Christian, the name Jesus is very precious because He means a lot to us. Not only was His life spent for the benefit of others, but He gave His life for others too. What does one carol say?

"Good Christian men, rejoice, with heart, and soul, and voice; Now you need not fear the grave: Jesus Christ was born to save! Calls you one, and calls you all, To gain His everlasting hall: Christ was born to save!"

I think it important to remember names can and should mean something. The coming season is called Christmas because it concerns Christ. Enjoy your celebrations, have a joyful time, and remember the One it's all about.

Each Sunday this month, Bethany Chapel in Coombe St has a 4pm Christmas themed service, featuring hope, love, joy and peace. At 10am on December 13th Uplyme Parish Church has a nativity event with children retelling the Christmas story. The Baptist Church has a Christmas Tree Festival from December 18th to 20th; Friday and Saturday 10am to 8pm and Sunday 12noon to 8pm. All are welcome at each event.

Sherborne Turf

ESTABLISHED for over 40 years, Sherborne Turf is situated in the picturesque village of Trent in Dorset, where we have around 150 acres of quality farmland dedicated to the production of our Trent Turf. Grown without netting, we use a blend of grasses developed over the years that will knit together to form a firm base, and leave our turf in the ground for 18 months before harvesting. It is then freshly cut to order and delivered using our own vehicles. While the trade standard for delivery is 'kerb-side', we realise that this is not always practical for our customers, and so our experienced drivers always endeavour to place the items as conveniently as possible for you, a service which is often not provided by other companies.

Although our core business is turf production, we also supply a full range of locally sourced topsoil, compost, bark and mulch. Other essential garden items include fertiliser, irrigation equipment, landscape accessories, and a full range of seed mixes to grow wildflowers and grasses for companion sowing.

Our delivery vehicles include an artic with removable forklift, a 6-wheel rigid crane lorry, and a pick up truck with trailer. We also have access to a wide range of vehicles for bulk loads of topsoil, compost and bark.

All of the staff here at Sherborne Turf have experience of the products we sell, and are happy to discuss any aspect of your garden project. Our website www.sherborner turf.co.uk contains detailed information, practical advice, and even has an interactive calculator. We are also on Facebook and Twitter, or why not give us a call on 01935 850388.

TERRY HALL SET FOR A VERY SPECIAL NIGHT IN BRIDPORT

SPECIALS front Man, 2 Tone ska pioneer, and all-round musical legend, Terry Hall comes to Bridport with a two hour DJ set at the intimate Electric Palace next week

As lead singer of one of the most important and game changing British bands of all time The Specials, Terry and his gang hammered the charts worldwide, with hits including A Message To You Rudy, Ghost Town, Gangsters, Nite Club, Monkey Man, and many many more. In addition to his music with the Specials, Terry Hall sang for Fun Boy Three, The Colourfield, Terry, Blair & Anouchka and Vegas. In 1995 he released his first solo album and has since collaborated with Gorillaz, Dub Pistols and Tricky

In between touring commitments with The Specials and various solo projects, Terry Hall will be performing a unique set of his own personal music collection, giving you an opportunity to hear some of the finest music from the last 40 years, with a style mixing up rare and classic tracks from across the genres, anything from Reggae, Dance hall, Ska and Two Tone to 80s pop, hip hop and indie. As this is currently Terry Hall's only DJ set on sale in the country, this really is a rare opportunity and as such advance booking is strongly recommended.

Terry Hall will be performing his DJ set at the Electric Palace, Bridport on Thursday, December 17th. Tickets are £12.50 (plus booking fee), or £15 on door, and available from Bridport Tourist Information Centre 01308 424901 or online at www.seetickets.com

Heading into outer space

FATBOY SLIM AND JESS GLYNN ANNOUNCED AS FIRST CAMP BESTIVAL 2016 HEADLINERS

SOUL-POP sensation Jess Glynne, and musician/DJ Fatboy Slim have been announced as the Friday and Saturday headliners respectively for outer-space themed Camp Bestival 2016.

The 2016 event, based at Lulworth Castle, will be the ninth annual outing for the award-winning festival, following headline performances from Clean Bandit, Kaiser Chiefs and Underworld in 2015.

Billed as a 'family friendly' festival, and having won Best Family Festival at the UK Festival Awards in 2009, 2010, 2013 and 2014, Camp Bestival features some of the best up-and-coming music acts, as well as performances from top cult and heritage acts, but equally mixes in entertainment for the kids. 2016 will see returns from Camp Bestival favourites Dick and Dom, and Mr Tumble, plus so much more.

Festival curator, and former Radio 1 DJ Rob Da Bank says: "Greetings cosmonauts and mini astro-nutters... so as we prepare for our first spaceman in July, I'm mega chuffed to unveil two of our intrepid headline sonic explorers. I'm not sure another festival could get away with Fatboy Slim and Jess Glynne but it's a tribute to you lovely campers that we can deliver such a diverse bill. Fatboy has always been one of the family, and Jess Glynne is quite frankly a one woman hit machine who will light up Friday night. Not forgetting our old chum Mr Tumble and, to fit with the theme, we have the amazing Aliens Love Underpants! Prepare to go extra-terrestrial".

Tickets for Camp Bestival 2016 are available from ticketline.co.uk and by calling 0844 888 4410. For more details visit the website at www.campbestival.net

Bentley's Cabaret is a laughing matter

WHENEVER Bentley ran the notorious Laughing Cabaret nights, the audience were always in for a eclectic comedy treat, due to his penchant for booking wonderful acts that were not just 'stand ups'.

Bentley

When Bridport Electric Palace contacted him to ask if he would be interested in putting a show together (perhaps another one man show after his hugely popular two-and-a-half hour swansong four years ago) they could almost hear him grinning as he said: "I won't do a one-man show but 'stand by' for a few days and I will see if the acts I want are available."

Luckily for Bridport they were and he has put together a comedy extravaganza of epic proportions and exceptional quality, embracing all that is and was magnificent about the UK comedy scene. It's taking place on Saturday, December 12th and features Woody Bop Muddy, Voltini, Dave Thompson, Brian Damage and Krysstal Clear, Martin Soan, Tom Glover, Bentley and the Dr Funk Disco. The show will be split into three sections, with two acts in each 45 minutes segment, and two breaks of 15 minutes.

As is traditional at Bentley gigs, there will be waiter service to the audience while the acts are on and there will be several tables down near the front.

There will be two breaks of about 15 mins, featuring the exquisite music taste of DJ Dr Funk. Because of the length of the show it will be starting prompt at 8pm and is likely to finish sometime after 11 - so try to get there early to grab a drink, chat to old mates and seat ready for Bentley to stroll onto stage and get the night rolling.

Bentley's Laughing Cabaret comes to the Electric Palace on Saturday, December 12th. Doors open 7pm.

Tickets are £14 in advance or £18 on the door. Tickets are available from Bridport Electric Palace Box Office, Bridport TIC or online from seetickets.com. Tickets for a pre-gig Dinner and the Show are £30 - advance sales only (incl reserved seating).

Songs of the sea

ACCLAIMED as the finest purveyors of sea songs and sea shanties in the world, The Kimber's Men are stars of Channel 4's Sunday Brunch, and they will be singing up a storm on the Marine Theatre Stage on Saturday, December 19th.

Nothing beats the resonance of hearing a hearty group of male singers of this quality live. The group now comprise Joe Stead (Ship's Doctor), John Bromley (Ship's Cook), Neil Kimber (Bosun), Gareth Scott (Powder Monkey) and Michael Beeke (Stowaway). Michael plays the Northumbrian Pipes and has added a completely new dimension to the sound since joining the band three years ago.

Comedy, unusual for shanty singers, make up a good part of the show. So be prepared to laugh.

In John Bromley Kimber's Men boast the finest bass singer on the British folk scene today. Indeed it is likely you will get a rendition of 'Old Man River' at some point during the concert. The founder member, Joe Stead who is almost a legend in his own right actually met and sang with Paul Robeson and was a friend of Pete Seeger the legendary American singer who died recently. Pete wrote such classics as 'Where have all the flowers gone' and 'If I had a hammer'. Joe has performed twice in concert in America with Pete, both in New York and for the Delaware River Valley Project in New Jersey when Neil Kimber accompanied him.

Kimber's Men play on Saturday, December 19th, 7.30pm at the Marine Theatre, Lyme Regis.

Tickets are £14.50, or concessions £12.50, a TheatreFriends discount is available, and LYT members can come for £1! All Ages/ Running time: 90 minutes plus interval.

To book tickets, contact TIC on 01297 442138 or visit the website at www.marinetheatre.com

Hansel & Gretel

A Sprinkling of Seasonal Magic from Forest Forge & Bumblefly

THE festive season in the region would not be the same without a visit to see the Forest Forge winter show, and this year it promises to be better than ever as they join forces with local theatre company 'Bumblefly' to produce a new take on the family favourite, Hansel and Gretel.

Lost in the deep dark enchanted forest, Hansel & Gretel embark on an adventure which sees them encounter lots of well known fairytale figures who try to help, or hinder them, as they draw ever closer to a strange and mysterious house that looks good enough to eat!

This classic family tale is given a fine sprinkling of Forest Forge magic and a large dollop of Bumblefly fun, creating a production full of vibrant, traditional story telling and packed with laughs and songs. This promises to be another special and unmissable seasonal show.

Forest Forge and Bumblefly Theatre will bring Hansel & Gretel to the Royal Manor Theatre, Portland this Thursday, December 10th, at 7pm. For more details or to book call 0333 666 3366.

New management at Symondsbury Kitchen... ... but still the same delicious home-cooked, locally sourced food

SYMONDSBURY KITCHEN is now under new management – Jean Pierre Nzante has joined the Symondsbury Kitchen team as the overall manager and he has lots of dynamic and exciting plans for the café in the New Year, including various themed evenings that will be taking place on Thursday, Friday & Saturday evenings from the end of February 2016.

The original ethos of the café will remain, which is to serve deliciously home cooked food made by using locally sourced meat, fish and produce including vegetables that are grown in the Symondsbury Estate garden all year round.

We still have limited availability for Christmas lunches and private parties, so if you do wish to book a table or a private party then we suggest that you do it sooner rather than later.

Every Friday evening we are open for Supper from 7pm and Sundays has seen the return of the traditional English roast dinner, available between 12 and 3pm. Although bookings aren't necessary we do advise booking on both Sunday lunchtimes & Friday evenings as they are proving to be very popular and we would hate to disappoint!

So if you haven't already been to Manor Yard do pop along, we have various shops & artisan units for you to browse around before or after your tasty treat at Symondsbury Kitchen.

You can book your table by calling 01308 538309. Wishing everybody a fabulous festive season from us all at Symondsbury Kitchen.

SYMONDS & SAMPSON SUPPORTING LOCAL CHRISTMAS TREE FESTIVAL

THE Beaminster Branch of Symonds & Sampson are proud to be supporting the Christmas Tree Festival at St John the Baptist Church in Broadwindsor. This year the church is hosting their first tree festival and 18 local organisations have agreed to decorate a tree for the occasion. Trees will be on display from 13th December until the 19th between 10am and 4pm, with tea and coffee available all day. The church has also promised a range of event during this period. On Sunday 13th December the festival opens at 12 noon with the grand switch on and blessing of the trees.

The church looks forward to welcoming visitors from far and wide to raise money for the church and also for the Wessex Autistic Society. The PCC has recently agreed a new project to put underfloor heating in the church, so money raised at the Christmas Tree Festival will be put to this project.

'At Symonds & Sampson we believe it is so important to support local events and fundraisers. We believe we are part of the community and most of our staff are local residents and actively involved in various projects and charities. Without the support of the community we could not exist so we are thrilled when we are given the opportunity to reciprocate. We hope that our donation of advertising boards will bring in visitors and help the church achieve their target figure. All of us at the Beaminster office can't wait to get down to the church and see all the Christmas creations' comments Symonds & Sampson Residential Manager, Jeremy Smith.

For more details on the Christmas Tree Festival please contact Rev Jo Neary, 01308 867816 or revneary@gmail.com

Jeremy Smith, Regional Manager of Symonds & Sampson's award winning team in Beaminster would like to take this opportunity to wish their clients past present and future a Merry Christmas and a wonderful New Year.

Jeremy commented: "We have had another fantastic sales year in Beaminster and the surrounding villages and without their loyalty to us our achievements would not be possible. We are aware that the first quarter of any year is always extremely busy for property sales, so if any of the readers of the View From are considering selling or on the market without success, why not contact us now on 01308 863100 to book your free valuation."

Broadwindsor Xmas Tree Festival

The Beaminster Branch of Symonds & Sampson are proud to be supporting the Christmas Tree Festival at St.John the Baptist Church in Broadwindsor. This year the church is hosting their first tree festival and 18 local organisations have agreed to decorate a tree for the occasion. Trees will be on display from 13th December until the 19th between 10am and 4pm, with tea and coffee available all day. The church has also a promised a range of events during this period. On Sunday 13th December the festival opens at 12 noon with the grand switch on and blessing of the trees.

The church looks forward to welcoming visitors from far and wide to raise money for the church and also for the Wessex Autistic Society. The PCC has recently agreed a new project to put underfloor heating in the church, so money raised at the Christmas Tree Festival will be put to this project.

A special edition to the MINI Countryman range

MINI is launching a new limited edition Countryman in the UK, the MINI Countryman Special Edition.

The MINI Countryman Special Edition has been developed by the manufacturer's Special Order programme, set up to allow customers to place orders for special edition models direct through MINI Retailers.

Instantly recognisable by its exclusive Space Grey Metallic roof and mirror caps, teamed with 18" 5-Star Double Spoke alloy wheels in black and Absolute Black Metallic body paint, up to 250 MINI Countryman Special Edition models will be available for customers in the UK.

The latest edition to the Countryman range comes packed with standard equipment including MINI Navigation System, Voice Control, MINI Connected, Enhanced Bluetooth™ with USB audio and multi-function steering wheel. Front Seat Heating, Automatic Air Conditioning and Xenon Headlights are also included as standard.

Inside, the MINI Countryman Special Edition has been styled to be as impressive as the outside, with interior surfaces in Piano Black and leather upholstery in Gravity-Carbon Black.

Customers can choose between two model variants, the MINI Cooper S ALL4 Countryman or the MINI Cooper SD ALL4 Countryman in either manual or automatic transmissions. Both model options are paired with MINI's ALL4 all-wheel drive system which provides excellent traction and quickly reacts to changes in road conditions, while still providing MINI's unique driving experience.

Customers can order the new MINI Countryman Special Edition at MINI Retailers now.

SsangYong adds 4x4 to Tivoli

▲ The SsangYong Tivoli 4x4

THE SSANGYONG Tivoli petrol was launched into the compact SUV sector in May this year, followed a few months later by an all-new 1.6 litre Euro 6 diesel engine available across the range. Now the company is adding 4x4, making it one of very few four-wheel drive cars available in this segment of the market.

"Tivoli is really helping to put SsangYong on the map," says Paul Williams, CEO of SsangYong Motor UK. "We are delighted with the reception the car has received from our customers as well as the media, who recognise the real step-change that has taken place.

"It is being recognised for its style, safety and equipment, interior space and finish, but especially its value for money and industry leading warranty, and now with the launch of Tivoli 4x4 we have another opportunity to extend this appeal even further."

Diesel power

Powered by the newly developed e-XDi160 Euro 6 diesel engine which produces 115ps/3,400 - 4,000rpm max power with 300Nm/1,500 - 2,500rpm and delivers a smooth, progressive and powerful driving experience, it offers optimised performance for both urban and motorway driving with excellent NVH (noise, vibration & harshness) characteristics.

The 1.6 litre diesel engine achieves a CO<sub>2</sub> emission level of just 113g/km (2-wheel drive, manual transmission), and 123g/km with the four-wheel drive manual.

The fifth generation E-VGT turbocharger on the e-XDi160 diesel engine maximises performance especially in the mid-low speed range so it is fun and responsive to drive. Two transmissions are offered, a 6-speed manual and Aisin 6-speed automatic.

In terms of economy, the Tivoli diesel 4x4 achieves up to 60.1mpg on the Combined Cycle with manual transmission, and 47.9mpg for the automatic.

Four wheel drive performance

SsangYong is Korea's specialist 4x4 and SUV manufacturer, and the design and engineering on the Tivoli 4x4 draws on the company's highly regarded 4-wheel drive technology and years of experience.

Tivoli employs an intelligent and advanced all-wheel drive torque on demand system that senses the road surface and driving conditions, and distributes the power to the wheels that need it most.

Under normal driving conditions, 100 per cent of the engine's torque is delivered to the front wheels so that the car runs with optimised fuel efficiency. On icy or slippery roads or when driving on wet off-road conditions, power is distributed to both the front and rear wheels to ensure a safe, stable and dependable drive. The technology operates to give a smooth and safe departure when driving away from a standstill on a steep slope, while a lock mode distributes power equally between the front and rear wheels at speeds below 25mph to optimise traction.

With a ground clearance of 167mm, an approach angle of 20.5 degrees, 28.0 degree departure angle and a ramp angle of 17 degrees, the new Tivoli is a highly capable off-roader.

In conjunction with the standard electronic stability program (ESP) with hydraulic brake assist and 4-channel anti-lock braking system (ABS), the four-wheel drive system provides the best possible grip and control whatever the conditions. Hill start assist (HSA) and active roll-over protection (ARP) also feature.

The Tivoli 4x4 also features multi-link rear suspension for a comfortable drive on the road, and increased wheel articulation for optimum grip off-road.

Hyundai Motor introduces IONIQ, the first car to offer a choice of three electrified powertrains

HYUNDAI Motor has announced the name of its advanced, alternative-fuel compact vehicle due for launch in 2016: the Hyundai IONIQ. The car will be available with electric, plug-in gasoline/electric hybrid, or gasoline/electric hybrid powertrain – the first car from any manufacturer to offer customers these three powertrain options in a single body type.

As part of Hyundai Motor's ambition to chart the direction of future mobility, the IONIQ responds to rapidly changing customer lifestyles by breaking the mold for hybrid vehicles. As the world's first model to offer customers the choice of three powertrain options, the IONIQ combines class-leading fuel efficiency with a fun, responsive drive and attractive design - a unique mix not yet achieved by a hybrid vehicle.

Woong-Chul Yang, Head of Hyundai Motor R&D Center said, "Hyundai Motor has a heritage of building innovative, fuel-efficient vehicles, so we are proud to advance our eco-friendly car line-up with the introduction of IONIQ. Our vision for future mobility focuses on choice, with a variety of powertrain options to suit customers' varied lifestyles, without compromising on design or driving enjoyment. IONIQ embodies Hyundai Motor's vision to shift the automotive paradigm and future mobility; IONIQ is the fruit of our efforts to become the leader in the global green car market."

The new car's name references elements of its creation. An ion is an electrically-charged atom, linking to the car's clever combination of electrified powertrains. The second part of the name references the unique offering it brings to the Hyundai range, demonstrating the brand's environmental commitment and willingness to maximize choice for its customers. Finally, the Q is depicted in the car's logo as a visual breakthrough, acknowledging the fresh new approach of this advanced, low-emission model.

Based on an exclusive new platform, made specifically for the car's multi-powertrain options, the IONIQ chassis is optimised to deliver responsive handling while remaining efficient in each of its three powertrain configurations. In its fully-electric (EV) form, the IONIQ is powered by a high capacity, ultra-efficient lithium ion battery. The plug-in hybrid (PHEV) version combines fuel-efficient energy with battery power obtained by charging the car with electricity, boosting its range while cutting its emissions. Finally, the hybrid (HEV) utilizes the petrol engine and motion of the car to charge the on-board battery, which returns enhanced efficiency by supplementing the engine's power.

Hyundai Motor is one of the world's leading manufacturers of hybrid vehicles and is committed to a future vehicle line-up comprising low- to zero-emission vehicles. This latest leap forward builds on Hyundai Motor's heritage of world-first environmental developments. In 2013, Hyundai Motor became the first car manufacturer to mass-produce a hydrogen-fueled vehicle, the ix35 Fuel Cell.

Following its world premiere in Korea in January, the IONIQ is due to be shown at the Geneva International Motor Show, followed by the New York Auto Show, both in March 2016.

What Car? award for Britain's safest car

WHAT Car? and Thatcham Research will crown Britain's safest car at the annual What Car? Car of the Year Awards ceremony on January 13, 2016.

Contenders for the Safety Award will be assessed for their Adult Occupant Protection, Safety Assist, and Child Occupant Protection. Competitors must also have been awarded a five-star Euro NCAP crash test rating, and have an Autonomous Emergency Braking (AEB) system fitted.

Nominees include the Volvo XC90, Honda Jazz, and Mercedes-Benz GLC. The full list can be viewed here.

Three cars will be selected from the shortlist by Thatcham Research and an independent panel of safety experts, before being announced at the What Car? Car of the Year Awards.

What Car?'s editorial director, Jim Holder, said: "Safety is one of the key concerns for new car buyers, particularly if the vehicle in question is to be used as the main mode of family transport.

"What Car? believes it important that such a key consideration is reflected in our Car of the Year Awards.

"Not only does the Safety Award highlight the incredible, yet often unsung, work manufacturers do, it also allows us to both commend and encourage it."

Matthew Avery, Director of Research at Thatcham Research, added: "The Safety Award is a unique way for consumers to select safer cars and identify the best of the best. Understanding how they are protected inside the car in the event of a crash, and how accidents can actually be avoided in the first place.

"It is this new crash avoidance technology that will help address the growing number of pedestrians, cyclists and motorcyclists killed and injured on our roads every year. And why from January 2016, Euro NCAP will be assessing cars for their ability to automatically avoid pedestrian crashes."

Rainbows daring to dream - title on?

Edwards steps down at Lyme - Waytown Hounds and Drimpton in county cup semi-finals*ROUND-UP – December 5th
DEVON & EXETER LEAGUE*EXMOUTH TOWN RESERVES 2 LYME REGIS 1*Division Two

LYME Regis' 12-game unbeaten away run came to an end on a day when their popular manager Tim Edwards announced that he would be stepping down from the role.

As with matches across the length and breadth of the country, a fierce gusting wind hampered any free flowing football at Southern Road.

Lyme had the elements in their favour and pinned the hosts back in their own half for the first 20 minutes.

But it was Exmouth who opened the scoring when Lyme failed to deal with a low cross from the right and ball was slotted past Chris Higgs.

The hosts went close to adding a second soon after with an angled drive that flashed over the crossbar.

But Lyme continued to press at the other end. Steve Batey smashed a 20-yard drive that Exmouth's former Tiverton Town keeper Chris Wright did well to tip over the bar.

Then came two good chances in as many minutes for Lyme striker Joe Bond. First up Mark Bailey weaved his way through the home defence before picking out the unmarked Bond stood in acres of space. But the Seasiders' top scorer's tame shot from eight yards was LYME REGIS Reserves were made to pay for not taking their chances against Langdon Reserves at a windswept Davey Fort.

The best two chances of the opening half hour were created by left-back Ally Rattenbury whose left peg first tested the crossbar and then visiting keeper Paul Proud from distance.

But the deadlock was broken when Fred Thomson fired in what appeared to be a harmless shot from all of 30 yards, but as the ball pitched in front of Proud a huge gust of wind carried the ball fizzing into the net.

The Seasiders held the lead until half time with the visitors creating little or nothing. But they equalised on the hour when Lyme skipper Alex Rowe chested the ball into his own net with keeper Robbie Prior left clutching thin air as he came to collect it.

Lyme tried to respond. Thomson burst through on a one-on-one and lifted the ball over Proud but this time the wind caused the ball to fade away to safety.

Ten minutes from time Rattenbury was tripped just inside the area but referee Glyn Roberts decided the offence took place outside and awarded a free kick which came to nothing.

They faded away from here but puzzlingly opted not to use any subs despite tired legs across the pitch.

The visitors' winner came in the form of a stunning 25-yard 'worldie' that gave Prior no chance as it soared into the top corner.

Top performer for Lyme was Matt Thomas in an unfamiliar holding midfield role.

PERRY STREET LEAGUE
DORSET JUNIOR CUP QF (1.30ko)*WAYTOWN HOUNDS 4
PORTLAND TOWN RES 1

ONCE again the wind made it a difficult game for both sides.

Portland started with elements at their backs but the Hounds worked hard to limit their chances to a minimum.

The visitors went ahead with a very good strike from distance, that went in off the post.

But Waytown were soon back on level terms when Tom Knott and Tom Rutland combined well inside the 18 yard box and when Town's keeper parried a shot from Rutland, striker Jon Legg was on hand to finish coolly.

The Hounds had the wind with them in the second half with manager Mark Hughes urging patience.

They took the lead when Nat Bowditch got the ball to Legg, who passed to James Loveridge ghosted past a defender and fired into the bottom corner after good work from Nat Bowditch, and Legg.

Soon after Rutland, who caused Portland problems all afternoon in the centre of midfield, picked up the ball and unleashed a cracking shot from 25 yards that hit the bar.

But they weren't denied a killer third goal and Sam Dowle hassled a Town defender into a back pass to his keeper keeper, but Legg nipped in first and round the gloverman and made it 3-1.

The result leaves a huge question mark over Lyme's promotion hopes with next Saturday's trip to Exeter University looking like a must-win affair. Seasiders: C.Higgs, L.Cleal (S.Bevis 45), G.Knight, D.Rowe, M.Batey (W.Blackmore 79), L.Clifton, R.Fellingham, M.Bailey, S.Batey, J.Bond, A.Jaques. Unused sub: B.Whittington.

◆ STEPPING DOWN: Tim Edwards has resigned after two and half years as Lyme manager straight at Wright who saved easily.

Seconds later Alfie Jaques nipped in to take the ball off Wight's toes before selflessly squaring to Bond who scuffed his shot from close range.

The equaliser came in the 42nd minute when Jaques was tripped in the area and referee Adrian Fullam pointed to the spot with no complaints from Exmouth. Robbie Fellingham expertly slotted home the resulting penalty kick.

Lyme were forced into a reshuffle at the break with left back Lee Cleal forced off with a tight hamstring to be replaced by winger Sam Bevis for his first team debut.

Exmouth regained the lead seven minutes after the break with what turned out to be the winner.

The visitors created little in the last quarter of the match; defender Mark Batey had a thudding low shot blocked and Bond went close with a tricky side foot volley from a Bevis cross.

Exmouth almost added a third late on when Dom Rowe slipped but Higgs came to his rescue with a superb one-on-one save.

The result leaves a huge question mark over Lyme's promotion hopes with next Saturday's trip to Exeter University looking like a must-win affair.

THERE was a flutter of cards between these two for the second time in seven days.

Referee Len Wilcox sent four players off for an early as the card tally rose to 20 yellows and seven reds over the two matches.

The league game between the two last week ended with Combe heading home with all three points after a 2-1 win.

Saturday's game saw the outcome reversed with the Wins gaining revenge and a home quarter final against Shepton Beauchamp.

A powerful run and finish from Warren Gabbidon gave the visitors a 1-0 lead at half-with both teams reduced to 10 men after Combe's Dan Rodber received two yellow cards and was soon followed by sibling Steve, in the Wins line-up, who was red-carded for elbowing.

Ian Hilton made it 2-0 from the penalty spot. Combe responded and pulled one back through Oli Hine before Winsham player-manager Tom Stead ensured his teams' passage into the last eight with a third for the visitors.

Both teams finished the game with nine men after Tom Symes (Combe) and Tony Harwood (Winsham) were both shown two yellow cards a piece.

SEPTON BEAUCHAMP 4 NETHERBURY 3

NETHERBURY pushed Shepton Beauchamp close in this Challenge Cup tie at a blustery Brimsgrove Lane.

The hosts took the lead in the 12th minute, when Mark Cuff was dispossessed and the ball crossed in to the unmarked Jamie Spurdle who tapped in from six yards.

The Ambers were level soon after when Paul Ruffle swung in a dangerous corner and Richard Pincombe nodded home a thumping header.

Shepton edged back in front when Dan Smith beat Adam Sorrell with a low finish.

Sorrell was then called upon to make a smart save at full stretch to his right to keep the score at 2-1. This proved vital as five minutes later Ruffle delivered a wind-assisted free kick from near half way which was spilled by home keeper Rich Pippin straight to Ryan Gay who slotted home for 2-2.

The Ambers were made to pay for a poor opening midway through the second half, as Shepton added two further goals. Firstly a shot was saved well by Sorrell, but Adam Dawe was on hand tap in the loose ball, after being played on.

The fourth goal came following a goalmouth scramble which Lee Quincey did well to block, but the ball fell kindly to the predatory Smith who made no mistake.

The Ambers put up a good fight in the last 20 minutes and deservedly got a goal back through Ryan Gall.

"We finished the game strongly and I really thought we were going to nick an equaliser," said Assistant manager Paul Cuff, who praised skipper Pincombe, but his star man was Quincey for his great work in midfield.

REG EGLON CUP R1 (2pm)*COMBE B 3 UPLYME RESERVES 1

GOALS from Neil Reid, Steve Chadwick and Graham Cleal saw Combe B emerge victorious in the preliminary round of the nine-team Reg Egon Cup.

Elsewhere, PYMORE crashed out beaten 5-0 at Portland United Youth but DRIMPTON join Waytown in the last four after goals from Barry Hayne and

Callum Taylor took the lead when finished well.

But the hosts were level before the interval as The Swallows were made to pay for missing a host of good chances in the difficult conditions and Combe eased to victory in the second-half.

Uplyme manager Stuart Wooster said: "If ever a game should be abandoned due to wind this was it."

Win lift for gritty 2nds

Bridport 2nd 16
Riversmeet Christchurch 8
BRIDPORT'S second team put in a gritty performance in defeating a strong Riversmeet Christchurch team to record their second victory of the season writes Roger Lewis.

It is victories like this one that certainly breeds confidence right throughout the team, which augurs well for the rest of the season.

At one for Bridport, STEVE HODDER was up against a very commanding and determined player in Clive Godwin whose domineering presence around the court made it hard for him on many occasions.

As well as Hodder was allowed to play it was Godwin's awkward but effective style which won him many points and despite a battling display it was Godwin who won the day 9-7, 9-1, 10-9 victory.

The match between TIM PARKMAN and Riversmeet's Nigel Hale was to turn out to be a very good game of squash with two very determined players trying to outwit each other.

Both had very useful shots demonstrating how squash should be played, with Parkman playing lovely angled shots from all corners of the court and Hale disguising his shots.

Although this had Parkman scampering all over the court to retrieve, he did it effectively enough to win 3-9, 10-8, 9-1, 10-8.

Local physician RIAZ DHARAMSHI put in a very clinical performance against Martin White, indeed everything White tried to do was stemmed by Dharamshi's determination to not let him play his natural game.

His simple plan saw White doing all the work as he mixed his game with straight drives and simple drop shots forcing White to take the medicine metered out by the Bridport player who won convincingly 9-2, 9-2, 9-4.

NICK COURTICE at four for Bridport was involved in a mistake riddled match against Kevin Foice, both players made it very hard for themselves by not being able to play the basic squash shots properly and effectively.

There were snippets of decent play as the game progressed in which Foice who just managed to scrape a very scrappy 3-9, 9-7, 9-4, 6-9, 9-5 victory.

ROBERT MUIR at five also started off poorly in his match against Kevin Fay.

It was the visitor whose tight and controlled lob shot at the start of the match had Muir struggling. He took the first game an looked set for victory, but it is the measure of Muir's ability to work out Fay's game plan and turn it around to his advantage.

By stemming Fay's winning lob shot Muir was able to play his own natural game to record a well worked 4-9, 9-2, 9-2 9-1 victory.

Heartbreaking defeat in local derby

Dorchester 2nds 24 Bridport 22

NEVER was the old sporting cliché "a game of two halves" more apt than in this hard fought derby.

At half-time Bridport were sitting comfortably on a 22-0 lead, but after 80 minutes they were forced to swallow the very bitter pill of a 22-24 defeat.

After the one-sided games of recent weeks this was a compelling contest and one from which Bridport will learn much.

Very gusty conditions contributed to a rather scrappy opening period with a solid home defence snuffing out some promising Bridport moves.

Finally the deadlock was broken from an attacking Bridport scrum, the ball fired out along the back line and fed to MoM Ricky Stubbs who had taken a great line and was not to be denied from short range. Will Everitt added the conversion.

From the restart Daragh McLaughlin stormed off downfield, scattering defenders and off-loading to Stubbs who duly scored his second. The conversion kick hit the post to leave the score 12-0.

At this stage the Bridport forwards were competing well with a much heavier Dorchester pack, providing good possession for the backs and forcing errors from the hosts.

Scrum half Tom East was unlucky not to add to the score when his clever run from a quickly taken penalty and kick ahead went just long, but Fred Everitt was successful with a grubber kick of his own which he touched down under the posts. The conversion made it 19-0.

More pressure from the visitors led to some desperate defending from Dorchester and another converted penalty ended the half at 22-0. Unfortunately in the build up to the penalty Fred Everitt was forced off with a heavy blow to the face.

The second half was all Dorchester's for reasons that were hard to explain.

Certainly they had the wind behind them and used it well to gain territory, and certainly the forwards were feeling the strain of containing their heavier counterparts, but ultimately the sides were evenly matched.

After three converted tries from Dorchester, and another unfortunate injury to Bridport wing Toby Hawker, it all came down to a kickable penalty in the final minutes which was coolly converted to complete a remarkable comeback.

Bridport U13 7 Oakmedians 35

BRIDPORT put in a brave performance but ultimately could not compete with the pace and physical size of the opposition backs.

Up front the forwards put in a great performance winning two scrums against the head and holding their own at the break down.

Unfortunately as soon as it passed through the hands of their backs the blues were out manoeuvred by the 3/4 pairing and the moves were finished by the winger.

The situation became even harder when Finlay Shoemark was injured. So with two forwards playing in the backs, alongside two new recruits, the team had its work cut out to stay in touch.

They came back from conceding a couple of early tries in the second half with a hard fought try of their own. Keeping the ball within the forwards the pressure from both Sonny Makepeace and Charlie Talyor made Oakmedians knock on within their 22 and a winning scrum allowed a pick and drive try across the line for Ryan Phillips to score under the posts, converted by Taleor Hopgood.

This was a team effort to try and compete with a side unbeaten this season, two players who perfectly reflected this were Sam Smith for his tackling prowess and Lewis Ali for his strength going forward.

Both of these players take the man of the match accolade. Special mention also for Ryan Phillips whose presence up front has a real energy to it, making many hard metres.

Sherborne U12 15 Bridport 15

FIFTY mph cold wind meant the conditions were going to test both Bridport and opponents Sherborne.

The Blues won the toss and chose to play uphill.

The game ebbed and flowed, with Sherborne scoring first in the 12th minute. Bridport replied immediately with back James Clatworthy powering over.

Even in the wind, both teams back play was outstanding with good tackling coming from both sides, but in the forwards Bridport would have been in trouble without the returning Peter Mullaney.

His presence seemed to lift fellow prop Thomas Craven's game, and Will Smith, debuting at hooker, was in the thick of it.

Sherborne scored and in the second-half, but George Found maintained his season record of a try per game.

Then came the move of the match; a blues drive downhill ball via fast hands to Oliver Hansford-Harvey, back inside to Toby Pattermore, and over he went for what was thought to be the winning try.

Not so, as back came Sherborne and fast running took them to a levelling try in the corner.

Oliver Hansford-Harvey edged Peter Mullaney for Man of the match.

Bridport Under 10s

BRIDPORT'S recent run of success came to an end at the hands of a well-organised and committed SHERBORNE team.

They were well beaten in the first game by five tries to one scored by Charles Edwards.

The second game was a much closer affair and better reflected Bridport's abilities.

Barney Johnson, back after injury, proved unstoppable from a penalty taken at short range to start proceedings.

Edwards added to his tally, running a great line and taking a smart offload to bamboozle the opposition.

He then used his strength to complete his hat-trick for the day, but Sherborne had also scored three by this stage and in the last play of the match emerged worthy winners with an excellent try.

Charlie Brake earned a mention in despatches for his tireless work at the breakdown but Henry Everitt was Player of the Day for his superb tackling.

to ten again for the final two minutes when May was green carded for time wasting.

Drama followed when Bude were awarded a short corner after which the referee blew the whistle to signal the end of the game following the completion of the move.

Furious action transpired from the injection followed by shouts of joy from Bude thinking they had equalised. Unfortunately for them the ball had hit the side netting and Hawks had their victory.

The goal feast didn't end there as early in the second half Hawks got their noses back in front. Steve Mearns was fouled in the D and once again it was Dormer on the spot to fire home his and the Hawks fourth with a clever reverse stick shot.

Having travelled so far, Bude didn't want to go away empty handed and they stormed the Hawks defence and put them under pressure for the next 15 minutes.

Unfortunately Charlie Davis, who had been in the thick of the action with a number of great tackles, lost a contact lens and had to leave the field to replace it.

A man to the good the visitors took advantage and eventually breached the Hawks defence.

With five minutes left Mearns got on the score sheet with a trademark undercut shot from the top of the D which flashed into the net, and victory looked assured for the hosts.

Beaminster missing several key players, opened brightly and created a couple of chances which were well dealt with by the visiting keeper, who was once again in good form.

Poole, a very direct and physical side however used their power to push back Beaminster and began to get into the game themselves, but the sides went into halftime on level terms.

Five minutes after the break Beaminster got reward for their tenacity. Andrea Prentice's shot was stopped by the keeper, but Bella Foot slotted home the rebound.

Poole reacted by more fresh legs and a spell of pressure which ended with the ball being bundled home at the far post after Beaminster had repelled two efforts on goal following a melee in the D.

The hosts were reduced to nine players soon after when sweeper Jenny Clarke twisted her knee.

But they regrouped and despite their lack of numbers easily held their opponents at bay to earn a point, although Poole could have won it in the last moments when they broke through, but they lacked composure and the opportunity was missed.

Beaminster do it the hard way*Beaminster 1 Poole 1

IT was a case of déjà vu on Saturday in the reverse fixture between these two sides. Back in October Beaminster travelled to Ashford Leisure Centre with nine players and returned with a creditable 2-2 draw.

This time they were one player better off, having ten but were later reduced to nine when Jenny Clarke had to leave the pitch with a twisted knee, whilst Poole like last time, had a full squad of 16 and were able to constantly rotate their players giving them fresh legs.

Spot-on Bees edge past plucky Sports*Bridport Res 3 Dorchester Sports 3

(get Bridport win 4-2 on pens)

DORCHESTER Sports took Bridport Reserves to penalties to decide this Dorset Senior Trophy quarter-final at a blustery St Mary's Field.

With Bridport having converted their first three, hat-trick hero Ashley White stepped up to try and keep his side level, but despite a well placed spot kick, Bees keeper Josh Hadley produced a magnificent save to beat away his effort to give his side the edge.

After Bridport extended their lead to 4-2, the tension became greater on Gary Harvey who unfortunately fired wide to give the Bees victory.

With a strong wind to contend with both sides tried to play the ball on the ground, but the heavy pitch soon became cut up and bobbly making it difficult.

Sports, currently lying third down in the Dorset Senior League, took the lead after five minutes when White gave them the lead although Bees manager Shaun Annetts was disappointed that his side could have prevented it during three different phases leading up to the goal.

Bridport picked themselves up, and equalised towards half-time through Josh Baker's well struck first time shot which found the top corner after being released by a superb pass from Dan Peach who received a heavy late tackle for his ingenuity.

With the wind at their backs in the second half, Bridport deservedly went ahead after following a good move released 16-year-old Tom Blair who blasted a shot into the roof of the net after his first effort had been blocked.

It looked like this would be enough, but a missed tackle on the halfway line saw White played through and he neatly fired under the advancing Hadley to take the game into extra time.

Annetts introduced his assistant Simon Gale at the point in a five-man formation, and he once again showed his skill and guile with a glancing header into the top corner to put the Bees ahead again.

With Bridport seemingly playing out time, White had other ideas, and with their defence dropping off and inviting a shot, he did just that, curling a superb shot against the wind, over and around Hadley.

Annetts said: "Dorchester are a good side and made it very hard for us. I am relieved as we didn't play as well as we have been, but the lads battled superbly."

"I was disappointed with their first goal; we had three chances to prevent it; after which we became a bit anxious and appeared to be trying too hard."

"They were a tough nut to crack, but we kept our heads."

◆ Bridport take their place in the last four draw alongside Sherborne Town Reserves, Parley Sports and Merley Cobham Sports.

Martinstown lift community award

MARTINSTOWN Cricket Club's dedication to the community, particularly through their youth policy, has resulted in them winning the Jack Douch Memorial Trophy at the recent Dorset Funeral Plan Cricket League Annual General Meeting.

Martinstown was awarded the trophy; in its third year, because it is a community-minded club which has significantly developed over the last few years, having created a thriving youth section, an award-winning pitch and have an enviable disciplinary record.

Paul House, on behalf of the club, was presented with the awards as well as £400 by Peter and Judy Douch, from the sponsors, and also Jack Douch's children.

Paul said: "It is a great honour to win and the club is delighted to have been presented with this award. We have a good group of people running the club and as long as we stay together I'm sure we'll prosper."

"The money from the sponsors will certainly help us develop further next season, especially our youth development."

League chairman John Ridout said: "We had a long discussion to decide who would win this year's award. There were several clubs in the running but Martinstown really stood out."

"They have risen through the ranks, have developed an excellent pitch and worked really hard with their juniors."

The award is named after a member of the sponsor's family, Jack Douch, a cricket enthusiast and war hero.

From the age of 14 Jack worked for his father's firm, F.C. Douch and Son in Wimborne, which now has eight funeral branches across Dorset.

Sponsors of The Dorset Funeral Plan for the last ten years, Jack's family decided to mark his passing three years ago with the award for the club that has done most for the game in their community.

Peter Douch, Chairman of the Douch Family Funeral Directors which runs the Dorset Funeral Plan, said: "Martinstown have come a long way and my father would have been delighted with their progress."

"He loved cricket and would be thrilled with the numbers of juniors being introduced to the sport by the club. The award is very much deserved."

Wiper malfunction wipes out Welsh rally chances

THE loss of the use of their windscreen wipers hampered local rally duo Rex Ireland and Adrian Scadding in the Network Q Wales Rally GB recently. The pair had been more than holding their own in their Ford Escort, and by stage 6, Dyfi, seen them move up to 18th overall of 83 entrants. However their wipers failed on the next stage, Dyffynant, which saw Scadding having to operate them using a piece of twine as Ireland peered through the muddy windscreen. With the next stage Aberhinnant 80 miles away, the pair were over 11 minutes late at the start and finished third last dropping them to 47th overall. Wipers fixed, they brilliantly fought their way up to finish 35th overall and third in Class H3 over the last three stages including the Great Orme at Llandudno. Scadding said: "It was very difficult as you can imaging without the wipers and I had to use two pieces of twine to drag them across the windscreen, and with 80 miles between stages before we could fix it, it was too much for us to make up." The pair will now take time out to assess what they will do next season.

Lyme Regis Sailing Club*Plans in place

THE cruising section of the Club held their forum on Sunday to arrange their programme for 2016.

Newly elected cruiser captain Chris Savory had already made contact with local clubs and boatyards so that visits could be arranged.

Chris is to be supported by past commodores Rob Wiscombe, who is responsible for the racing programme, and Keith Thompson, while Rob Walker joins the sub committee to lead on cruises. New this coming season will be day sails and shorter cruises which have been introduced because of the limitations of our local tides and to help those who find taking a whole weekend or longer away difficult.

Cruises to Dartmouth, Weymouth and Topsham are always popular, with Teignmouth and Brixham to be included.

The traditional race to Beer for the Juby Wiscombe Cup is an equally popular event in August, and a cruiser class is a feature of the club Regatta on 6th/7th August as part of the town Regatta and Carnival.

With over 35 members attending, the club cruising section is thriving.

New members are always welcome but moorings for bigger yachts in the harbour are limited and application must be made to the Harbourmaster as these are not a club facility.

An active lift-keel group regularly take part in club racing.

Tim calls time on Lyme manager's role

LYME REGIS football have begun the hunt for a new first team manager after Tim Edwards stood down from the role on Saturday.

Edwards, in the hot seat for two and half seasons, was absent from the weekend's 2-1 Devon & Exeter League Division Two promotion clash at Exmouth Town Reserves' Southern Road Ground.

His assistant Rob Thom took the reins and informed the team of Edwards' decision in the changing room after the game.

Edwards told View Sport: "I can't commit as much as I did due to family, work and lifeboat commitments so am standing down. But I will certainly still be involved at the club both playing and on the sidelines helping out where I'm needed and will happily continue on the club's committee."

Edwards led the team to promotion from Division Three at the first attempt last season in their Devon & Exeter League debut.

His first season at the helm brought the Dorset Intermediate Cup up back to the Davey Fort in 2013-14 after a 4-1 victory over Allendale in the Final under the floodlights at Bridport and the team finished runners-up to Crewkerne in their final season in the Perry Street & District League.

Club Vice Chairman Gerard Hitchcock said: "We fully understand Tim's decision. He's done a superb job after stepping up from being Karl Diment's assistant and has led us to some great times in the D&E League where I know he has earned a lot of respect.

"It's great to hear he will still be around and involved both on the pitch - he's played for all three of our teams this season - and behind the scenes, he is a key member of the club's infrastructure and future."

Edwards was club captain when the team won an unprecedented four trophies back in 2004-05 and has more than 100 goals for the Seasiders to his name.

The experienced Thom will be in interim charge of the team with the club set to discuss the issue at last night's committee meeting.

Thom is likely to be in charge when the team head off to face promotion rivals Exeter University 3rds. The team must bounce back quickly from Saturday's reverse at Exmouth, and the loss of Edwards, if they are to fulfill their aim of back-to-back promotions.

Lyme Regis Reserves' Division Seven promotion hopes were also dented by a 2-1 defeat. The Ressies put in a lack lustre performance against lowly Langdon Reserves at the Davey Fort and will need to improve at the weekend when top-of-the-table Tivvy Park are the visitors (2.15ko).

Over at Venlake, Uplyme edged past Beaminster Reserves 4-3 in a feisty affair while the Uplyme second string were beaten 3-1 at Combe in the Reg Eglon cup. The Swallows' first team are at Pymore next weekend while the Ressies welcome Netherbury Reserves for a Bill Bailey Cup tie.

Finally, CHARMOUTH clinched an impressive 4-3 win over Halstock to progress in the Bailey Cup, but have bigger fish to fry with a place in the Dorset Minor cup semi-finals at stake from their visit to face Corfe Castle Reserves on Saturday.
